

SALT FESTIVAL

SUNDAY OCTOBER 17, 2010

TIME	ATTRACTION	LOCATION
10:00am	Salt Festival entry gate opens, welcome to the 2010 Festival!
10:00am - 4:00pm	Pioneer encampment open. Step back in time to the 1840's and participate in demonstrations, storytelling, talks, and hands on learning about many facets of pioneer life.	Pioneer Encampment
All Day	Salt making demonstrations. See how pioneers got salt from the springs here at Big Bone.	Pioneer Encampment
All Day	Visit with Pat and Matt Maley as they demonstrate the many uses of plant fibers and hair for spinning, weaving, cordage and much more.	Pioneer Encampment
All Day	Reptiles of Kentucky. Join Scott Braunstein as he shows you the many species of reptiles that can be found in Kentucky.	Festival Field
All Day	Blacksmithing demonstrations. Join our special guest, Jim Perkins, as he demonstrates his blacksmithing skills for everyone to see.	Crafter's Venue
All Day	Flint-knapping demonstrations. Stop by and see James "Red" Wynn, to learn how American Indians made arrowheads and projectile points.	Festival Field
All Day	Appalachian beekeepers will be doing continuous demonstrations of smoking meat, beeswax candle making, and food preservation methods.	Festival Field
All Day	Make your own pottery masterpieces with Albert Bauman.	Shelter Field
10: 30am	Enjoy great old time Kentucky Bluegrass music performed by Gunpowder Creek.	Main Tent
11:00pm	Atlatl demonstrations. Join us at the atlatl field to learn about a most ingenious hunting device used by people all over the world.	Festival Field
12:00pm - 1:00pm	Listen to old time Bluegrass fiddling as The Rabbit Hash String Band will be roaming around the festival grounds.	Main Tent
1:00pm - 3:00pm	Animals in Action. Learn about birds of prey as BIOSE showcases live raptors for all to see.	Roaming the Festival Grounds
1:00 pm	Prehistoric fire starting demonstration. Learn how American Indians used the bow drill to start fire without matches or a lighter.	Festival Field
1:30pm	The Downtown County Band will be performing great old time bluegrass music for everyone's delight!	Main Tent
3:30pm	Soaring Raven. Listen and be mesmerized by the beautiful melodies from Soaring Raven as he plays the Native American flute.	Main Tent